

About the Author of the Guidebook: HOME WITH GOD

Kimberly Darwin is dedicated to helping others enjoy their life experience. As a full believer that our many physical lives are an arena for the creation of fantastic experiences, Kimberly has traveled throughout the world, sometimes putting herself into situations others would consider risky (roasting pigeons at overnight parties on the dark side of the Nile) or dangerous (sharing jokes with East German guards sporting machine guns); yet Kimberly's belief that all people are one has fueled lasting relationships with people worldwide. Kimberly's wanderlust and thirst for knowledge has given her many careers: gemologist, casino pit boss, professional quilter, English teacher in a low-security prison, bartender, and domain investor. With each experience, Kimberly has enjoyed the chance to learn and expand, offering even more opportunity to better understand people and why they tick. For more information about Kimberly's views about life, visit her blogs:

www.recyclmysoul.com

www.awareness.cc

www.theguiltfreelife.com

Kimberly is completing a long-awaited business degree and plans to continue writing motivational material. She lives just outside of Phoenix, Arizona with her partner Jerry, her son Evan, Shiva the cat, and three African Dwarf Frogs named .com, .net and .org.